Hello everyone! It's the final month before the quilt show! Please check out the newsletter for important information for volunteering at the quilt show. This is a huge money maker for the guild and we need a lot of help. Another thing you can do to make the show a success is to convince all your friends and family to check it out. We'll have nearly 200 quilts and some great vendors. It will also be the last weekend to buy tickets for the raffle quilt.

Also, don't forget to bring your quilts to the meeting to turn them in for the show. I can't wait to see them all!

2017 SHQ/CBQ Quilt Show – Silent Auction

Collection of items and containers continues at the March guild meeting!

We have begun sorting the silent auction items, and it looks like we are in a really good position to make this year another success! One area that we are still lacking in is completed quilts and quilt tops. They do not have to be fancy. Completed quilts and quilt tops make the booth look so festive and inviting.

We are also still collecting disposable canisters. We are doing something a little different this year, we will be doing a bag auction . We are looking for anything that cannot be seen through and can hold a number of tickets, such as coffee tins, oatmeal containers, or even tall tissue boxes.

Thank you so much for the plethora of items and containers that we have already received! We will continue to collect items and containers at the March guild meeting.

Community Service

I have all the community service material and will continue to hand out pre-made kits at the guild meetings. I am also considering other charities that we can focus on. If anyone has any ideas or has contact information for a specific local organization, please forward that to me. We have had over 270 yards of fabric donated within the last couple of months. It's time to get sewing ladies!!

The guild has been donating Community Service Quilts to the following charities for over 15 years:

WRNMMC serves military families and our nation's active duty, returning war heroes, veterans and our Nation's leaders. Donated quilts are given to servicemen/women who have been injured in combat. Smaller quilts are provided to servicemen/women or used as gifts for the patients to purchase for their loved ones.
- CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) (Any size quilt) – These quilts are made from colorful fabrics and are presented to children for comfort allowing them to have something to call their own. The remainder are distributed to children who have been adopted within the last year at the November National Adoption Day Ceremony at the Prince William Court House in Manassas, Virginia.
- Manassas and Gainesville Health and Rehabilitation Centers (Quilt sizes: 36" x 39") – Provides comprehensive rehabilitation, long-term and respite care services, including physical, occupational and speech therapy, audiology, cardiac and pulmonary rehabilitation. February's Meeting Minutes

STONE HOUSE QUILTERS' GUILD MEETING

February 13, 2017

The meeting was called to order by Susan Graves, Vice President, at 7:10 p.m.

The proposed changes to the by-laws were read to the guild members. These proposed changes will be put in the news letter with the intent to vote at the next guild meeting in March. After discussion it was understood that changes to the by-laws must be sent out to the membership 30 days before a vote. Therefore, the changes will be voted on at April's guild meeting. It was asked that it be made clear what type of member change to the by-laws are being requested. Terms regarding life members or voting members will be updated. The proposed changes do not reflect how we will address people who only join so they can go to Capon Springs. This needs to be spelled out more clearly. It was requested that we be able to vote separately on each change. A question was asked if absentee of proxy voting is possible. The guild does not have absentee or proxy voting. There must be a quorum present to vote.

The budget will be e-mailed to each committee chair to review and update. We will vote on the 2017 Budget at the next guild meeting.

The guild has received donations from the family, friends of family and the community in the memory of Karen Roberson. Myra Brent, the secretary, sent thank you letters from the guild to each donor and a copy to D. M. Roberson.

RAFFLE QUILT

- Everyone was asked to please start selling tickets for this year's quilt.
- The Raffle Quilt for 2018 is complete and quilted by M&M.

- The Capon Springs and the June In-house Retreat at the Hampton Inn sign-up sheets were made available during the break. There are two different retreats. Stay-at-home is at the Hampton Inn, in Manassas. Capon Springs is an away trip. Family owned and family run facility, tranquil, has a spa, beautiful setting, and all meals are included. - Still needed are a couple more people to volunteer for the Hampton Quilt Show. We will reimburse anyone who serves for white gloves or the raffle table. Your entry fee will be reimbursed with the presentation of a receipt and you must be on the sign-up sheet. They will tell you what to do when you register. Nancy will send out an email to each volunteer. If you pay on-line it is $1.00 less and you will get a receipt.

Virginia Quilt Museum Update

Current Exhibits (Feb 21 - May 20, 2017)

"Two Golden Ages of Applique: 1840-1870 & 1920-1940"

Curated by Debby Cooney
Quilt historian Debby Cooney explores various forms of applique on quilts and other textiles in the historical context of two different eras. Applique quiltmaker skills can best be seen in the years 1840 to 1870, and in a revival from 1920 to 1940. For several years she has studied, written about, and collected applique quilts. She shares these and quilts from other private collections with visitors in this wide-ranging exhibition.

"P's and Q's", by Fiber Art Virginia
Curated by Jill Jensen
Photography and printmaking aren't necessarily the first thing you think of when considering quilts. Over the years, quiltmakers have used a variety of fabrics to create their designs. Some fabrics are chosen out of necessity (sack cloth and scrap materials for instance) while others are chosen for their color and printed designs. The artists included in this exhibit use photographic and printmaking techniques to create original imagery, color, and pattern on fabric.

"Eclectic", by Top of Virginia Quilt Guild
Curated by Trudi Van Dyke
As part of our mission, the Virginia Quilt Museum endeavors to support and celebrate our Virginia quilting community by displaying the varied works of our state's numerous quilting guilds. In this varied exhibit, Top of Virginia Guild members display an array of quilts showcasing the myriad of talent expressed through techniques and styles of quilting.

"Treasures From the Vault: Wool for Winter"
Curated by Gloria Comstock, VQM Curator and Registrar
The utilitarian uses of quilts are sometimes forgotten in our fascination with the visual elements and techniques of quilting. Of course, the most popular use for a quilt has always been as a bed quilt, as a source of warmth. In this exhibit, which opens in the cold and frosty month of February, consider the very practical addition of "wool for winter" to a quilt. From crazy quilts to whole cloth, this small exhibit will feature select quilts from the VQM collection that feature wool.

SAVE THE DATE! Spring Quilt Discover Luncheon on Sunday, April 23rd at the Westin Hotel in Richmond, VA. After the great success of our Christmas Tea Discover event in Winchester, we are excited to take the model of this program to a new venue and region! More event details will be announced soon with tickets going on sale March 24th.

Recipe from Our Guild Member

Ranch Pretzels (enjoyed at our most recent in-house retreat!)

1 pkg twist pretzels (15 or 16 oz bag)
8 oz Orville Redenbacher Popcorn Butter Oil
1 package Dry Hidden Valley Ranch Mix
1 Tablespoon Dill Weed
1 Tablespoon Garlic Powder

Mix Oil, Ranch Mix, Dill and Garlic together in large bowl. Pour pretzels in bowl and stir together. Line cookie sheet with foil. Pour coated pretzels on cookie sheet. Make sure you get all the oil mixture out of the bowl… That's the good stuff!

Bake in 250 degree oven for 25-30 minutes. Stir every 5-10 minutes. Allow to cool and store in sealed zip lock.

You might want to make a double batch… They go quickly!

Quilting Tips

Thanks to Kary Heck for passing on this article about measuring for borders.

BORDER PATROL!

We've all done it, whether we're new to quilting or in a hurry – we sew on the borders and trim them afterwards to square off the corners. Some of you may not know that this is the wrong way to apply a border. What can happen is that the border stretches as you sew it on – no matter how many pins you use. Below is an article that explains how to properly measure and attach a border to your quilt top. Even if you add multiple borders, you need to go through this process to make sure your top will lay flat and not have borders that are waving at you! Another great tool to help prevent this is a Walking Foot. It will feed your border and quilt top together through your sewing machine at the same time and help prevent stretching. Use lots of pins too!

Applying Borders

Many of our quilt customers have asked for information on borders. The following information should help you get your borders on and your quilt flat before quilting.

After the body of the quilt has been pieced, gently press before adding borders. The logical place to measure the finished top is along its outside edges, and this is a useful measurement. However, measurements should be taken across the center in two or three places for both the width and length. If these measurements are different from that of the outer edge, accidental stretching has occurred. To keep the finished quilt as straight and square as possible, you must measure the centers.

To make a border with straight-cut corners:

Determine the length of the quilt border by averaging the distance of two or three center measurements (see Fig. 1). Cut two borders that length and pin them to opposite sides of the quilt matching ends and centers and easing in the fullness. Sew and press.

Determine the width of the quilt border by averaging the distance of the two or three center measurements (see Fig. 2) Cut these borders that length and pin - easing in the fullness. Sew and Press.

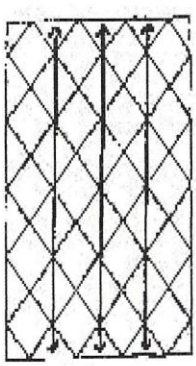

Fig. 1

To make a border with mitered corners:

To determine length of top and borders, measure across middle width of the center. To this, add width of border twice plus 1/2 inch (seam allowance). For side borders measure across middle length of center. To this, also add twice the width of border plus 1/2 inch (seam allowance).

Cut borders to length. Fold and press ends at 45 degree angle - this marks miter seam.

Fold border in half lengthwise to find center. Find center of top and pin together. Pin each end of border through the mitered crease and center of top (last square etc.), then pin together remainder -- distributing fullness throughout.

Sew with border on the bottom. Begin and end sewing at pin that is through center and miter crease. Now just align creases and pin and sew. Sew from outside toward the top. Clip and press.
